LWV STATE BOARD MEETS

The state board of The League of Women Voters of Mississippi met in Hattiesburg at the Forrest Hotel on Tuesday, Feb. 8th. Mrs. T. Chatfield Fisher of Jackson, president of the State League, presided. It was announced that the biennial convention would be held at the Hotel Markham in Gulfport on May 11 and 12th, 1955. At this convention, the budget for the next two years will be discussed and adopted, as will items for league work.

At this time the League would like to remind its members of the democratic procedure by which the policies and the agenda of the league are arrived at. Any member of a local League may suggest a subject for study. Every suggestion is considered at convention and then a vote is taken to choose those subjects which seem of the most vital importance to the majority.

Reports from local Leagues indicate that interest in League activities is steadily growing. The provisional League in Long Beach is ready to apply for local status, and other leagues are increasing in importance in their communities.

JUNIOR NEWMAN CLUB NEWS

BY BOB BING

The regular meeting of the Junior Newman Club was opened with usual prayer under the direction of the Club's president, Kent Seltzer.

Upon closing the opening prayers, counselors Mrs. Betty Burns and Miss Flora Tocco conducted class on the subject, The Service. Though the class was small in number the material covered was truly an asset to those present at the meeting.

Due to bad weather the musical director of the Junior Newman Club Choir, Mrs. Walter Hava, was unable to practice the church hymns which, in the future will be sung in Our Lady of the Gulf Church on Sunday at the 8:30 a.m. Mass.

The Junior Newman Club will be without its advisor Father Hugh Taylor, for just one more weekly meeting.

The regular meeting which lasts for an hour was shortened considerably, due to the fact that most of the JNC members present wanted to attend the basketball tournaments held at Bay High School's Gym.

Bob Bing, Vice-President of the JNC, suggested to the club that they urge all members of the JNC to be present at all the weekly meetings held hereafter.

Due to the March of Dimes Benefit Boxing Matches held on February 17, JNC meeting night, the JNC held its meeting on the Wednesday preceding the regular meeting night, Thursday.

SPECTATORS WATCH LAST TRAIN GO BY
Railroad fans and old timers watched a sad sight last week—the last passenger train passed through Columbus, Miss.
The passenger train pulled out of the Columbus Station and a passenger train service ended after 66 years. The first train was there of the Mobile and Ohio in 1889, which carried Confederate soldiers to battle.

You can tell when an economy is being made. It's usually by the way the government goes about it.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

PASTURES

If you did not fertilize your clover, vetch or winter peas last fall, it is not too late to apply the fertilizer now. Experiment station tests show that most pasture plants do well when fertilized just before growth begins. If you do not fertilize fast growing clovers, you will be disappointed when spring growth starts.

One precaution: Do not fertilize clovers with phosphate or potash when the young plants are wet. Wait until they dry off. Do your top dressing in the middle of the day after the plants have dried off. Use of a pellet of fertilizer reduces danger of burning the plants.

Dallis, lespedeza and Bermuda should not be planted until March. If planted sooner, many of the first plants are killed out by freezes.

SAVE PIGS

Extra pigs saved means more profit to the hog producer. Here are some tips on how to save a large percentage of the year's pig crop:

Make sure that the bred sow gets a balanced ration so that she can nurture strong, healthy young. Bred sows need plenty of suitable proteins, vitamins, and minerals.

Keep the brood sow in clean, comfortable, properly ventilated quarters. Be sure that pigs are born in clean, dry, well-bedded quarters away from drafts.

Be sure that pigs nurse properly. Baby pigs should have access to clean sod or an iron preparation which will prevent anemia. Be alert for signs of scouring... this may indicate over feeding, improper feeding or disease.

FIVE-ACRE CORN CONTEST

You are certain to gain if you enroll in the new Mississippi Five-Acre Corn Contest and grow corn the recommended way. It is easy to do this, too.

First, enroll before June 15. We have the necessary forms, as do the other agricultural workers in the county. You will not have to measure off your five-acre contest plot by June 15. You do not have to erect corner stakes until soon before the county contest committee visits your field to determine your yield.

Any farmer may enter this contest, regardless of age or other qualifications. Substantial cash awards will be offered.

To make higher corn yields this year—which many farmers need to do anyway to help feed their livestock better and more cheaply—select the best corn land now. Of course, you will first select your best land for cotton.

For corn, look for deep, fairly well drained bottom, second bottom or low upland soil.

Next break the land thoroughly. If there is a plow sole or other hard layer not far below the surface, be sure to shatter it. This will help the soil to soak up spring rains. It will also permit free passage of water from beneath during the late summer.

A soil test to determine the fertilizer needs of your particular soil will also help, and the samples should be taken without delay.
